The Axe

By Frances Randolph

CERTAIN Juniors, Seniors, graduates, and nondescripts recently took it into their heads to call a meeting of the Junior Class of Columbian College, and elect officers. It is particularly entertaining to note that at least one of the so-called officers did not know of the meeting or of the "honor" conferred upon her. The time is past when a few self-styled politicians can pull off anything as raw as that. Regular Junior elections will be held Friday night and officers will be elected in the usual way.

MARION CAMPBELL was sent out of Dean Henning's class one day last week for blowing her nose. The Dean is said to have remarked that he could not teach in that noise!

THANKS to the perseverance of a member of the Hatchet Staff, freshman caps are at last appearing on the campus. When, oh mighty sophomores, are you planning to begin the enforcement of the admirable rules you have laid down? When will we again have the pleasure of seeing the lowly frosh traveling the south side of G Street, furnishing matches for their lords and masters, and respectfully avoiding the company of the upper-class girls? It is time for the class of '28 to begin to bring up the children in the way they should go.

SOME ONE was heard to remark that when the information about religions in the University was given to the Hatchet reporter he couldn't take a joke. The particular "joke" referred to was the statement that there was a Mormon in school. We fail to see the joke. There is not only one Mormon in school, but at least eight that we know of. Probably there are more, since comparatively few of the students registering filled out the religious affiliation cards. And really (Brace yourself for the shock, Clarabel) they seem almost like other people when you know them!

COL. BILLY MITCHELL, a graduate of Columbian College, spoke at Roll Call Monday. His coming brings out one thing about the teachings of the University which we call Alma Mater, and that is "To thine ownself be true." In this case, the possible consequences make Col. Mitchell's determined sincerity the more notable.

HOPES of a sudden debut in the first-class football world were somewhat dashed last Saturday when the G. W. team lost its battle with Bucknell. When we consider that no more than two years ago we suffered annual defeat at the hands of a somewhat less renowned school by scores of 50-0 and up, it does not seem so bad.

ACACIA has taken unto itself a beautiful 20-room mansion on Massachusetts Avenue. Where have you been keeping yourselves for 10, these many years, little Acacians?

FOUND through the good effects of this column: One dramatic critic! Believed hopelessly lost this time last week, Bob Ward has returned to his old haunts. His review of the Gayety was turned in just a day late.

GEORGE WASHINGTON is to be represented this year by a cross country team. The field seems to be large when we consider the number of bashful shiks who have tramped over miles of muddy field to escape the too ardent attention of our sweet girl undergraduates.

ABOUT this time of year, when you see a student looking unduly grave and important, hear him talking about the needs of the campus, and witness his vows of loyalty and devotion, you know he's a Politician, spelled with a capital P. What a pity that most of them forget that they're still politicians after elections are over!

TO BESTOW NINETY DEGREES TUESDAY AT CONVOCATION

Dean Frederick B. Robinson, of New York, Is Principal Speaker

ONE DEGREE HONORARY

Columbian College Leads With Thirty-one In Number of Diplomas To Be Awarded

Dean Frederick B. Robinson, dean of the School of Business and Civic Administration of the College of the City of New York, will deliver the address at the annual October Convocation to be held in Corcoran Hall next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. One honorary diploma will be bestowed and eighty-nine other degrees, representing almost every department of the University, will be awarded.

Another contingent of graduates will leave the doors of George Washington to swell the ever increasing body of alumni when these eighty-nine receive sheepskins as a result of work completed in the past summer school. Tentative figures released by Dean Hodgkin's office distribute the diplomas among the schools and colleges as follows: Columbian College, thirty-one; Law School, nineteen; School of Graduate Studies, eighteen; Teachers College, twelve; College of Engineering, seven; Medical School, two.

No Admission Tickets Required. Just who will receive the honorary degree could not be ascertained, the office intimating that information upon this subject would be divulged only in the official program to be distributed at the exercises.

Twenty-five engraved invitations have been issued to each of those who expect to participate in the graduation ceremonies next Tuesday although tickets of admission from any who wish to attend will not be required. Candidates will assemble on the second floor of Corcoran Hall at 2.30, where the academic procession will form with President Lewis and the various deans and professors at the head in order of their rank. The procession will move to the scene of the Convocation on the first floor, at 3 o'clock.

Dean Frederick B. Robinson, the principal speaker, besides being dean of the School of Business and Civic Administration of the College of the City of New York, is also secretary of the Association of Urban Universities, of which President Lewis is the president.

MANY MASONS ATTEND THIRD ANNUAL SMOKER

Guests of Honor Include Prominent Masons of District of Columbia and West Virginia

Over one hundred Masons from the student body of the University attended the third annual Smoker of the G. W. U. Masonic Club and the Acacia Fraternity, held at the house of the latter, 1707 Massachusetts Avenue last Friday evening.

Guests of honor included Roe Fulkerson, Grand Master of Masons of the District of Columbia, Clyde Dutton, Grand Master of Masons of West Virginia, Worth Landon, manager of the Masonic Service Association of the United States of America, Dean Howard L. Hodgkins, and Professors Clarence M. Updegraff, of the Law School, De Witt C. Croissant and Audley L. Smith, of Columbian College, John R. Lapham, A. F. Johnson and James H. Platt, of the College of Engineering.

The purpose of the meeting was to get the Masons of the University into closer fellowship and to unite in the support of the University.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY WANDERING GREEKS

The first smoker and meeting of the Wandering Greeks was held last Thursday evening in the Lounge of Stockton Hall. The feature of the meeting was the election of officers for the coming year.

C. B. Upham, Ph. D., now of G. W. Law School, and a graduate of Iowa State, was chosen president; Martin S. Casey, Law School, formerly of Washington and Jefferson, vice-president; Henry Landon, of the Engineering College, from Kansas, secretary-treasurer; and Cameron Sherwood, A. B., who has studied at both Washington State University, and Whitman College, librarian.

LUDWIG PRESIDENT OF ENGINEERING SENIORS

Gilbert K. Ludwig was elected Senior Class president of the Engineering College at a meeting of the class last Thursday. Other officers elected were Frank M. Albert, vice president, W. B. Lawrence, secretary, Adrian Busick, treasurer, and Tom DeLashmut, sergeant-at-arms.

MAMMOTH SNAKE DANCE WINDS WAY DOWN AVENUE ERE IT IS HALTED BY RIOT CALL

Annual Roll Call Celebration Brought To Close As Public Reserves Disperse Mob Near White House

A mammoth snake dance which crawled its tortuous way down the Avenue and through the renowned "Peacock Alley" capped the third annual Roll Call Monday night. Down Pennsylvania Avenue swept the dance of triumph, halting street cars and automobiles. Up to E St. it went and halted at the Met. It wound through the Columbia, and emerged with movie signs. Students decked in frosh caps with red lanterns led onward. Up Collegiate Avenue the cheering hordes went and into the Washington Hotel. There a blind wall met the struggling mob, until those behind cried forward and those before cried back. Finally unwinding itself, the snake continued up Fifteenth Street, where its progress was momentarily halted while the minions of the law interfered. A luckless member of the body was seized by an over-zealous bluecoat, but concerted appeals from the mob convinced him that the best procedure would be to loose him.

Something which closely resembled a chair from the Hotel Washington was seen perambulating up the Avenue, affixed to a Ford sedan. Numerous "No Parking" signs were firmly planted in the middle of the car tracks, and several red lanterns were scattered throughout the crowd. It was this latter that aroused the wrath of the police, thus enforcing a temporary interruption. The giant snake was well under way again, when a patrol full of cops swooped down on it in front of Mr. Coolidge's residence. Out of the joy-wagon piled the hefty coppers, brandishing aloft their shiny night-sticks and yelling orders of dispersement. This attack chastised the revelers to such an extent that they continued up G Street to the tune of "Hall, Hall, etc." where they finally disbanded in front of the University.

RIFLEMEN FORESEE SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Most Veteran Marksmen Return to Team; Stokes Again Is Coach

RIFLE RANGE IMPROVED

First Practice for Those Wishing to Make Team to be Held November 1

Walter Stokes, coach of the G. W. Rifle team, is laying plans for a better shooting season than the University has ever experienced. He announces that extensive improvements are being made on the range in Corcoran Hall which include among other things, a new ventilation system. This arrangement, by means of forced ventilation will relieve the range of all fumes and smoke and thereby remove considerable discomfort and annoyance.

Thaddeus Riley will captain the men's team this year and the lineup will include Smith, Parsons, Crockett, Strawbridge, and Hugh Riley. In addition to these veteran marksmen, Coach Stokes has some very promising material in line from the Washington schools and elsewhere. Everett and Trimble are the only men who are not with the team again this year.

Practice Starts Next Month

Shooting will commence on November first and in the meantime, Stokes in cooperation with the captains and managers of the two teams will arrange a complete schedule for practice and matches. Announcement of this schedule will be made later through the Hatchet and posters. Those interested in making the team are advised to watch the Hatchet for announcements of try-outs and practice.

The coach stated that although the lineup for the year was not the world's best, it included some very able and excellent marksmen and by careful practice and the hearty support of the student body he hoped to "bring home the bacon."

OLDEST G. W. DRAMATIC CLUB LAUNCHES SEASON

"The Players," oldest of George Washington's dramatic societies held its first meeting of the school year Wednesday, October 7.

Application blanks must be filled out by all those who wish to try out for the Players at the close of the next meeting, to be held on the first Wednesday in November. A one-act play is presented at each meeting. Anyone who is interested in the production of modern drama should not fail to be at the next meeting.

BIG TURNOUT AT PARTY OF EPISCOPAL SOCIETY

Over one hundred Episcopals turned out for the G. W. U. Episcopal Club's party at St. Paul's Parish Hall on October 8. Spencer Meade made a reputation for himself by winning the prize in "Going to Jerusalem." The prize was a steel engraving of the justly famous George Washington. Quality rather than size distinguished the engraving, for it was a postage stamp. A desperate hunt for peanuts was rewarded with the remark, "There aren't any." After the games refreshments were served. The rest of the evening was taken up with dancing and bursting the many colored balloons which were given to the guests.

Mr. Stephen Kramer, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, was one of the guests.

The next meeting of the Club will be on October 22 at 8 o'clock in room 23 Corcoran Hall.

BRITISH STATESMAN SPEAKS AT CHAPEL

Sir Robert Lynn, Member of House of Commons, Addresses Students

AMERICANS PLEASE HIM

States Two Countries Must Proceed Along Same Lines in Intellectual Development

Sir Robert Lynn, editor of the "Northern Whig" of Belfast, member of the Imperial House of Commons and a member of the Imperial Parliament of Ulster, who was attending the meetings of the Interparliamentary Union, addressed a large body of students at a special five o'clock chapel in Corcoran Hall, Monday, October fifth.

In his talk, Sir Robert stated that fully one-sixth of the present population of the United States has an Ulsterite ancestry. Having a common background, both in ancestry and literature, he said both his country and America must proceed along the same lines in their moral and intellectual development.

Finds Knowledge Thorough

He reminded the students of their great responsibilities in the world, of their traditions, and of their opportunities to disseminate knowledge. In comparing the British and American students, he found the Americans to be more enthusiastic. In his contacts with Americans in Great Britain, Sir Robert was pleased to find that their general knowledge was not superficial, but thorough and profound. He was "filled with delight and admiration that Americans have kept alive the high ideals of oratory."

Sir Robert was especially fitted to compare the educational systems of the two nations as he had spent two years in revising the educational methods of Ulster.

DIONYSIAN SOCIETY TO PRODUCE GREEK PLAY

Many Attend First Meeting as Dramatists Lay Season's Plans; "The Frogs" to Be First Effort

The first meeting of the Dionysian Society, one of the dramatic groups which put over the dramatic festival last May, and a member of the George Washington University Dramatic Association, was held last Thursday evening in Corcoran Hall. This meeting, though primarily of a business character, brought numerous applications for membership into the society.

Plans for the dramatic season were discussed, and the society decided to croak its way into the hearts of its audience by producing a revised version of the old Greek comedy "The Frogs." An editorial committee to revise the play was appointed.

The next meeting of the Dionysians will take place Thursday night, October 22, in Room 21 of Corcoran Hall. All students are welcome.

PRES. LEWIS RECEIVES NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

President and Mrs. Lewis held a reception in Stockton Hall on Tuesday, October 13 at 9 o'clock, in honor of the new members of the faculty. Members of the Board of Trustees, of the University Council and faculties attended. This custom of holding receptions for the new members of the faculties was inaugurated by President and Mrs. Lewis last year, so that the new members might be officially greeted by their associates.

BUCKNELL GRIDDERS DEFEAT HATCHETMEN AFTER HARD BATTLE

Every Method of Scoring Used By Bison Team in Winning 21 to 0

ENEMY BACKFIELD STARS

Taps Sounded for Christy Mathewson During First Quarter By Bucknell Students

Swept before the stronger and more versatile attack of the Bucknell gridmen, the football eleven of George Washington University went down to defeat at Lewisburg, Pa., last Saturday by a 21 to 0 score. High winds and intense cold marked the game, which was played under great difficulty by the teams yet unaccustomed to cold weather.

Every mode of scoring known to football was used by the Bison team in gaining the decision. They scored two touchdowns, one on straight football and end runs, and one as the direct result of a forward pass, kicked for point after touchdown, scored by a 50-yard placement kick and a 55-yard drop kick, and finally added to their total by a safety.

The icy cold weather kept the attendance at the game down, and only a scattered handful of spectators, consisting largely of Bucknell students, watched the contest. Several auto loads of supporters of the Hatchetmen made the trip, and made themselves heard whenever possible.

Taps Sounded For Mathewson

A few minutes after the game had started time was called and the audience and players stood with bared and bended head while taps for Christy Mathewson, once famous as pitcher for the New York Giants, were sounded by four students of Bucknell University. Mathewson was a graduate of Bucknell and his son is now attending that institution. The "Big Six," as Mathewson was called, was laid to rest in a little cemetery near the stadium.

The front line of the Axemen showed to the best advantage during the game. Coach Crum's backfield could not seem to get going, and was forced on the defense soon after the battle opened, and the front line and the ends bore the brunt of the Bison attack.

"Tubs" Hayman and Slaughter were the mainstays of the forwards. The former performed especially brilliantly and the Orange and Blue team kept two or three men on him.

STUDENTS TO CONFER WITH LEWIS TONIGHT

Six Committee Members Already Selected Will Meet in President's Office

At seven o'clock tonight Dr. William Mather Lewis will confer with his new Student Committee in his office in the Administration Building.

Six members of the President's Committee are now known. They are: Henry H. James, representative of the Hatchet; Sterry Waterman, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council; Marion Campbell, president of the Pan-Hellenic Association; Wyatt Stout, president of the Columbian College Senior Class; James F. Davidson, president of the Medical Seniors; and Gilbert K. Ludwig, president of the Senior Class of the Engineering College. The president of the Law School Senior Class will also be included when elected.

Closer Student Contact

As has been previously stated the committee has been created by the President as a means of bringing about closer and more informal contact between the administration and the student body. Senior Class presidents on the committee are to be regarded as representatives of the students in their colleges. Those desiring to have matters brought to the attention of President Lewis should do so through their respective representatives.

Meetings will be called by the President every two weeks.

COLUMBIAN JUNIORS TO ELECT CLASS OFFICERS

A meeting of the Junior Class of Columbian College has been called for Friday night, October 16, at 8 o'clock, in room 22, Corcoran Hall, by George Von Dachenhausen, president of last year's sophomore class. Election of class officers will take place. An unauthorized election took place last Friday night, the results of which have been declared invalid.

EL CIRCULO ESPAÑOL MEETS

El Circulo Espanol will meet tonight in Room 21, Corcoran Hall, at eight o'clock sharp. Election of officers will be held. A musical program has also been arranged.

ALL STUDENTS MEET ON CAMPUS FOR THE ANNUAL ROLL CALL

President Lewis Commends United Student Body; Suggests Motto For Year

COL. MITCHELL SPEAKS

George and Martha Express Pleasure At Progress of University And Promise For Future

Beginning with the first note of the Army Band which heralded the coming of George and Martha Washington, and ending in a mad snake dance down Pennsylvania Avenue, the third annual Roll Call held on the campus Monday afternoon was the most inspiring and enthusiastic gathering in the history of the University.

Speeches by our Patron Saints, by the popular president of the Alumni Association, Gilbert Hall; by our well-loved President; and by that heroic and idolized alumnus, Colonel William Mitchell, followed one another in rapid succession, interspersed with lusty cheers for "George and Martha," for the "Prexy," for "Gilbert Hall," and last but not least, for "Billy Mitchell."

Lewis Gives G. W. Motto

The development of a University consciousness was the motto proposed by President Lewis for the coming year—a motto which strikes the keynote of that for which the annual Roll Call stands. "I am proud tonight as I look into your faces," said the President, "to realize that we are developing in George Washington University what I like to call 'the University consciousness'—a consciousness that we are not simply members of one class or of one department, but that acting together, we are loyal sons and daughters of a great institution."

Referring to the many loyal men and women who have worked for the upbuilding of the University, President Lewis said: "While I am very appreciative of the reception given me, I wish to call attention to the fact that the University was going long before I was here. The lives of great and devoted men have been built into it, and for nearly half a century a man who sits here on the platform has stuck by it. I take off my hat to Dean Hodgkins. That sacrifice and that unselfishness gives me the clue to what I want to say to you."

"Our pride is not simply in the fact that we have here buildings and certain elements of learning, but our pride is in the fact that men and women are being made here, are being prepared for a life work and of service."

Mitchell Gets Big Ovation

As Colonel Mitchell arose to address the students, his reception attested the fact of his alma mater's pride in him. He related how he had entered the University 33 years ago, only to be called away in his Junior year by the outbreak of the Spanish American War. "But," said Colonel Mitchell, "I was always

BIG INTERFRAT SMOKER TONIGHT FOR FRESHMEN

All New Men Students In University Invited To Mixer In Gym

For the first time in the history of the University a Freshman Inter-Fraternity Smoker will be held by the Greek letter societies tonight at 8 o'clock in the Gymnasium. All Freshmen and new students in the University are invited to attend.

Among the many features scheduled for the evening are speeches by President Lewis, Coach Crum, and Sterry R. Waterman, president of the Inter-Fraternity Association. Sterry Waterman will welcome the new men on behalf of the fraternities in the University.

The "Straight Eight," double quartette, will have several musical selections to offer. The program for the evening will be rounded out with a variety of acts and stunts, according to present plans.

The Freshman Inter-Fraternity Smoker should not be confused with the annual Inter-Fraternity Smoker, which will be held at a later date. Whereas the former is open to all students entering George Washington for the first time, the latter will be open only to members of fraternities and their pledges.

SWISHER AT HISTORY CLUB

Dr. Charles C. Swisher, head of the history department, will address the first meeting of the History Club to be held in room 22, building 5, Tuesday, October 20, at 8 o'clock. All regular history club meetings are open to interested students, members of the faculty or friends of the University.

SOPHOMORES! WAKE UP!

"What has happened to sophomore activities usually carried on at this time of the year?" asks a writer to the Hatchet. Don't ask us; we don't know. Sophomores of Columbian College usually leaders of the Arts and Sciences Department in enforcement of freshmen regulations and in the promotion of the annual tug of war, have lapsed into an apathetic state without even the usual class organization to conduct sophomore affairs.

Traditions of the University, the college life and college atmosphere, have been maintained in the past by the sophs of the Arts and Science section, particularly those of Columbian College. Sophs, Wake Up! Organize; do your stuff; make yourselves a name upon the campus.

THE STUDENT COMMITTEE

This year another step has been made in Student Affairs in George Washington University. Time alone can tell if it will be successful or not.

The President's Student Committee, which will meet every two weeks, will lay before the President, student affairs, their faults and recommendations for their correction.

This committee will be made up of men and women who have the major part of their University career behind them. They have a full knowledge of conditions that have existed in G. W. U. for the past few years and are fully qualified to advocate changes where they are needed.

However, the success or failure of this venture does not rest entirely with the committee members. The entire student body is represented and should make use of this opportunity to advise their representatives about things that might have escaped the notice of the members themselves. The President is exerting every effort to get in direct touch with students and student opinion. Let's meet him half way and make another long step in the forward march of George Washington University.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB ACTIVE

An organization of the University which is rapidly gathering fame, both for itself and for George Washington, is the Men's Glee Club. Starting out last year with a scant handful of faithful members, the Club passed through the greatest period of its existence, capping the climax of a brilliant season with a week's engagement at the Rialto Theatre, where thirty voices appeared twice daily.

Their start this season has been an auspicious one. Approximately 50 candidates reported for the first tryout of the year, held last Friday evening, thereby presenting the greatest array of potential talent the Club has ever known. Director Harmon was well pleased with the turnout.

The Club will begin its season this year doing deeds of charity, singing at St. Elizabeth's Asylum and at Walter Reed and Mt. Alto Hospitals. For this it is to be greatly commended. The sense of hearing is one of the few ways of comforting the sick and the insane.

The Club still has use for much additional talent and all students who are interested in this type of activity and feel that they are in any way suited for the work of the Club should report to Director Harmon as soon as possible.

THE FRESHMAN SMOKER

The Inter-Fraternity Council has devised a plan unique in rushing annals. All new students entering the University have been invited to a huge smoker in the Gymnasium where they will be received by fraternity men representing all of the social fraternities on the campus. This will give the freshman desirous of joining a fraternity an opportunity to become widely acquainted with members of the various fraternal groups and of selecting that group with which he finds himself most congenial, providing he is fortunate enough to receive a bid. Under the present system of closed smokers a large quantity of good fraternity material is overlooked every year. President William Mather Lewis, himself a fraternity man and a strong believer in Greek letter societies at George Washington, will be present. Although the new plan comes rather late in the rushing season it is worth trying and should prove mutually advantageous to the fraternities in search of good men and freshmen in search of fraternal fellowship.

Fred Farrell and Howard A. Jones have recently returned from the National Exposition of Chemical Industries which was held in the Grand Central Palace, New York. They represented the Department of Chemistry of the University, and inspected new apparatus and equipment to be introduced in the industries and educational institutions of the country.

The engagement of Rieta Van der Vies to Rev. Edward Latch has been announced.

Marjorie Gerry was married on July 29 to Waldemar J. Gallman. Mr. and Mrs. Gallman are now living in Costa Rica.

Miss Louise Smith, who came from the University of Kansas to join us last year, is leaving Washington for the old home state. Good luck, Louise! Sorry to see you go, and hope you'll visit us soon.

The Kappa Alphas have been busy with a varied social program since the opening of school. On September 28th they gave an entertainment for the Alumnae members of the Frat. A very delightful dance was held September 30th, a dinner party October 2nd, and a tea Sunday afternoon, October 4th.

Betty Corl entertained a number of friends at a dinner party last Sunday at her home in Mount Ida, Virginia.

Klare Markley and Tom Scanlon spent a week-end recently along the "Great White Way," looking over the new editions of "Artists and Models," "Scandals," and Al Jolson's latest revue. Advance reports are very encouraging.

Ellen Littlepage, who graduated last year, is now attending Columbia University.

Marion Casey entertained at bridge on Friday evening, at her home at Tudor Hall, in honor of Louise Smith, who is returning to Kansas. The other guests were Lydia Shepherd, Mary Cramer, Elaine Black, Caroline West, Jean Houghton, Marian Casey, Roger Neal, Ellis Bever, Henry Lansdon, Ensign Al Richmond, and Dr. William Ballinger.

Helen Aekin, a Pi Phi from Kansas Agricultural College, and Mary Crippin, Pi Phi from Randolph-Macon, are attending George Washington this year.

O. E. May of the Graduate School, recently returned from an airplane trip out through the Middle West.

Edith Hocker will be married to Sangster Bizzell on October 14th, at Clarksville, Texas.

When Betty Wilson phones the Sigma Chi house, complications immediately arise. She calls for Ted Allen—and there are two Ted Allens! We suggest a code of signals, passwords, etc.

Politics have come upon us in their usual precipitant manner—and there is much smiling, handshaking and conspiracy. Tickets are made up, and changed in the next breath, groups of embryo politicians stand around on the campus wildly "politicizing" and in the end, "Quien Sabe?" "So's your old man."

The pledges of Sigma Chi were hosts to the pledges of the other campus fraternities at a smoker given at the chapter-house, 1314 N Street, on Tuesday night, October 6. Coach Crum was the principal speaker of the evening and the "goats" certainly enjoyed the opportunity of getting together in this manner.

The engagement of Kitty Hough and Hilory Tolson has been recently announced. Kitty and "Bun" are graduates of G. W. '25 and are well known in campus activities, where Kitty was a member of the Hour Glass Honor Society, and "Bun", who also captained the track team for two years, was a member of Pyramid and Sigma Nu.

Dean Anna L. Rose will be hostess at tea to the women of the University from 4.30 to 6.00 today, with members of the Y. W. C. A. assisting in serving.

Medical School News

FROSH-SOPHS HOLD DANCE

Sophomores of the Medical School with the volunteered aid of the freshmen, held their first big social event of the season last Saturday night in Corcoran Hall when they staged a dance to which the upper-classmen were invited. The first and second year medics showed a particularly fine spirit and hospitality in the entertainment of their guests, among whom were Dr. and Mrs. George B. Jenkins, Major and Mrs. M. Munson Corbett, Dr. and Mrs. Wm. B. King, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Roe and Miss Marie O'Dea. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

ALPHA KAPPA KAPPA

Alpha Kappa Kappa staged a most successful and entertaining smoker Friday, October 2, at the University Club. Although the evening was disagreeable outside it did not affect the pleasure within. The rooms were crowded with prominent alumni, pledges and visitors besides the regular members.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by pledges and members. Those present from the faculty were: Drs. Oscar B. Hunter, vice dean, Tomas Cajigas, Custis Lee Hall, and Leslie French. Dr. Coursen B. Conklin, presided. The evening was concluded with a buffet lunch.

PHI CHI

Phi Chi began its year's round of activities with a smoker at the University Club Friday, October 2nd. It was well attended by new students, members and alumni. Many pledges from among the freshmen were obtained.

Faculty members present included Drs. John Wesley Vovee, William J. Mallory, Everett M. Ellison, Joseph H. Roe, John A. Reed and Joseph B. Glenn.

LAMBDA PHI MU

Lambda Phi Mu opened the season with a very pleasant smoker and luncheon at the Cafe Louise, Friday the 2nd. The honor guest of the evening was Dr. Charles Anuario, who spoke. Joseph J. Drago acted as toastmaster. Frank Suraci contributed to the entertainment.

The next meeting will be held at 1441 Rhode Island Avenue N. W. at 7.30 o'clock Saturday night. A lecture on fevers will be given by Dr. Joseph J. Bono.

PHI LAMBDA KAPPA

Phi Lambda Kappa held a most enjoyable smoker Saturday, October 2nd, when they entertained a big turnout at the Franklin Square Hotel. John Paul Earnest, professor of medical jurisprudence, was the principal speaker. Other members of the faculty present were Drs. George B. Jenkins, Tomas Cajigas, Joseph H. Roe, and Harry S. Bernston. The fraternity announces that Dr. Joseph Stein, of the Medical School, has become a member.

PHI DELTA EPSILON

Phi Delta Epsilon fraternity held an exceptionally delightful smoker and buffet supper in the Red Room of the Hamilton Hotel last Friday evening. Those present from the faculty were Drs. George B. Jenkins, Joseph H. Roe, Wm. B. King, Maurice H. Herzmark, and Wm. T. Davis. Recent graduates and visiting members, including many students from the freshman and sophomore classes, were among those present.

INTRODUCING THE FACULTY

William Cabell Van Vleck

Tall, gaunt, leader of the Law School; a foremost legal educator; affable and interesting; a staunch defender of extra-curricular activities.

Dean Van Vleck is a native of Washington, where he traversed the educational route of the local schools, to graduate from Central High School. He attended George Washington University, receiving his A. B. with distinction in 1908 and his LL. B. with distinction in 1911. In 1921 he gained his S. J. D. from Harvard.

Ever since 1904 he has been connected with G. W. either as a student or as a member of the faculty. As a student he was president of the Enosinian Society, president of his Senior Class in Columbian College, a member of the debating team that met Washington and Lee in 1905, a reporter on the Hatchet and editor of the Cherry Tree in 1909. In the years following graduation he organized and was secretary of the Columbian-George Washington Law School Association and edited the first Law School Directory in 1914. From 1912 to 1920 he was secretary of the Law School.

WHEN Comp. Lit. and Physics 3-B are crowding for attention; when I've just received an over-cut notice from the Dean; when my allowance is a month off and the stub of my check-book confesses a balance of $9.32, give me a pipe and Prince Albert. I want to be happy!

Trouble's a bubble, they say. And I can prove it . . . with my jimmy-pipe and P. A. Just never was a friend like Prince Albert. Cool and sweet and soothing, P. A.'s true-blue smoke zooms up the stem, knocking troubles for a row of test-tubes.

Never a tongue-bite or throat-parch. Just cool contentment, no matter how hard you hit it up. Give me a grate fire to chase the chill of winter nights, an easy chair and my jimmy-pipe packed with P. A. Nearby, a tidy red tin for frequent refills. I know, Brother, I know!

SPLINTERS FROM SPORTDOM

Many Uses for Gymnasium
Interfrat Basketball Soon
Cross Country a new venture
Girls' Rifle Has Good Prospects
No Swim Appropriation Made

By DAN MCGREW

George Washington University's gymnasium has many and varied uses. It serves as a dance floor, a debaters auditorium, a registration office, a tearoom, a theatre, an assembly room, a store and dressing room for the men's athletic teams, as a basketball court and as an indoor race-track. It is one of the most used buildings of the University.

The Interfraternity basketball series will be run off in November this year in order to finish the tournament before the varsity squad gets under way. Last season the fraternity teams had to wait until after the varsity was through with the gym before they could practice or play. The new arrangement will make it better for all concerned.

George Washington is to be represented by a cross country team this year in addition to the regular track team. While this is a new branch of athletic activity at this University, Coach Proby feels certain that his team will be able to make a creditable showing in this its first year of existence. Four veterans in the sport and two other long distance men are the nucleus around which the team will be built. This is a sport which demands real stamina and pluck.

November first will see the first of the rifle team drills among the co-ed marksmen, with several veterans and many new stars competing for places on the team. Sophia Waldman, the captain, hopes to be able to lead a better team than ever before to the firing line this year, and has hopes of wrestling the cup denoting leadership in all departments of the sport from the girls of the University of Washington, who have nosed the Hatchet Girls out for the past two seasons.

George Washington co-eds seem to be taking up so many different branches of sport that one begins to wonder if they are not slightly overdoing the thing. Hockey, rifle, tennis, swimming, fencing, varsity basketball, intersorority basketball, bowling, and the interclass track meet give the fair sex an excellent opportunity to gain fame in athletics. In fact we think that with so many small branches the real women's sports do not have the chance they should.

Lack of appropriation may force the greatest array of aquatic stars ever gathered at the University to seek facilities for their sport elsewhere. Last season the team was organized for the first time, and made a very creditable showing for an initial year. Catholic University was decisively defeated, and such teams as Navy, Lehigh, and Swarthmore met in the tank. Such an excellent opportunity to produce a winning swim team under G. W. U. colors should not be overlooked. Under present conditions the swimmers will be forced to join the Y. M. C. A. in order to represent their own University.

GIRLS ORGANIZE FOUR FIELD HOCKEY TEAMS

Inter-Class Series Planned With Silver Loving Cup for Winner

Organization of the four class teams in girls' field hockey has been nearly completed, according to Miss Hopkins, coach of the squad. There are enough freshmen girls out for hockey this season to make two full teams, it is believed. The sophomores number about a dozen, while the junior team is seeking three more recruits. Five more girls are needed to fill out the senior "eleven." The freshmen girls are reporting in numbers nearly equal to those of the other three classes combined. This is probably because there is, at G. W., this fall, a group of girls from Western High School where many were hockey enthusiasts and ranked high on their school and class teams. They are proving themselves skillful players under the expert direction of Miss Hopkins.

Stars Fail to Return

The upper class teams have lost several of their star players this year. Some have entered other schools while others are attending night classes, and are unable to practice with the squad.

Miss Hopkins has announced that as soon as vacancies on the teams are filled, and organization completed, each class team will play on one of the regular practice days. Toward the end of the season an inter-class series will be played. A silver loving cup is to be awarded to the victorious team. The Varsity team which will be made up later, probably will schedule several practice games with local schools.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday are regular practice days. Any girl interested in the sport should report to the gym on those days at 1.45.

ELECT TOLSON AGAIN TO LEAD G. W. CLUB

December 4 Is Date Set by Club for Annual Football Hop

At the annual meeting of the G. W. Club held Monday, October 5, Hillory A. Tolson was re-elected president for the third consecutive term. Edwin S. Bettelheim, Jr., was also re-elected for the third consecutive term as Treasurer of the Club. Ernest L. Stewart, manager of last year's football team, was elected Vice-President, while Bolton Smith was elected Secretary. There was a strong contest for Sergeant at Arms between "Tubby" Fletcher and Guy Hottel, with Hottel ultimately winning out. Plans for the coming season both concerning the "Letter" Club and athletics in general were discussed. The date for the Annual Football Hop, which is held each year under the auspices of the Men's and Women's G. W. Clubs was set for Friday evening, December 4. Detail plans will be announced at a later date.

The services of Hillory Tolson, Walter Stokes, Guy Hottel, and Clay Espey were offered to the athletic committee, for the purpose of acting as Cheer Leaders for the C. U. football game. A committee was appointed, consisting of E. L. Stewart, Joseph Rutley and Carl Woerner, to go into the matter of perfecting cheering leadership at all of our games.

MT. ST. MARY TEAM NEXT HATCHET FOE

Game Gives Promise of Hard Battle As Maryland Team Looms Strong

GIVES G. U. CLOSE BATTLE

Crummen, Smarting Under Defeat at Hands of Bucknell, Out for Blood

A real battle is promised for Saturday afternoon when the Buff and Blue of George Washington mingles with the Blue and White of Mount St. Mary's at the Central Bowl. Smarting from the defeat bestowed upon them by Charlie Moran's Bucknellians, the Hatchetmen want blood, and are out to get it.

Around a nucleus of two veterans, Coach Malloy has built an outfit which possesses plenty of power, offensively and defensively. In their first game of the season the Emmitsburg eleven handed the Camp Meade team a decisive setback. Their next appearance witnessed a 19 to 13 defeat at the hands of Georgetown, but this verdict was not rendered until after the Marylanders had thrown a real scare into ranks of the Hilltoppers.

Passing Game Effective.

The Collegians flashed an aerial attack which seemed to baffle the Blue and Gray. With Abbatichio doing the heaving, and Gollbart and Campbell on the receiving end, the Mountaineers completed five consecutive forward passes which brought the pigskin within easy striking distance, whence they scored. Gollbart and Abby, as he is called, are both veterans of last year's successful aggregation which overcame Catholic University by a score of 6 to 0.

While G. W. was tussling with Bucknell last Saturday, the Mount St. Mary's lads were taking a good drubbing from Carnegie Tech to the tune of 34 to 0. This will be the first time in recent years that the Hatchettes have stacked up with the Marylanders, and the Crummen expect to renew their acquaintance with a win. However, this will by no means be an easy matter, and it will take a lot of hard, fast football to convince the Blue and White that it is not the better team. Coach Crum is putting his minions through a stiff drill in anticipation of the coming fray, and feels confident that they will come out on top.

GYM CLASSES SCHEDULED IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Freshmen women are required to take some kind of gym work this year according to Virginia Hopkins, the new Director of Physical Education. The classes as scheduled will be held on Tuesday and Thursday at 9.15, Tuesday and Thursday at 11.15, and Wednesday and Friday at 11.15. Afternoon and evening classes will also be formed, but no definite time has been set for them as yet.

Women students other than Freshmen, desirous of taking some form of physical training, should arrange at once with Miss Hopkins for classes.

NO APPROPRIATION MADE FOR SWIMMING TEAM

Many Famous Swimmers Now Enrolled in the University; Team to Meet Tonight

Despite the fact that this year some of the country's leading swimmers are enrolled in the University, and all of last year's team except Captain Peter have returned, George Washington swimmers face the abandoning of their sport, as no appropriation has been made them by the Faculty Committee on Student Activities.

Among the stars now enrolled in the school are Guy Winkler, formerly of the Naval Academy. Winkler swam the breast and crawl strokes for four years on the Academy team, and for three years was placed with the All Americans. He captained the Navy team one year.

Lieutenant W. G. Farrell, U. S. M. C., who while swimming under the colors of the Washington Canoe Club last summer, came within a few seconds of breaking the world's record for the 440 yard breast stroke, is also in school. Farrell's performance may be considered even more striking, when it is considered that while the record was set in a twenty yard pool, where the turns make the course faster, his swim was over a straightaway. Lt. Farrell is also South Atlantic back stroke champion.

Other Stars Here

Ray Edmonston, who last year at Central High School made such an enviable record that he was given first place on the All American scholastic team, swimmers from Kansas University and other western schools, Lyman, former South Atlantic diving champion and Stansfield, former South Atlantic scholastic plunge champion, Stephenson, the second District man to finish in the National Three Mile Swim held on the upper Potomac last summer, and many others now in the University are extremely disappointed by the failure to provide for a team.

Albert Lyman, last year's captain, has called a meeting of all men interested in swimming to be held tonight in the Alumni room of the Law School, Stockton Hall.

SORORITY TOSSERS CLASH

The inter-sorority basketball games will be played the weeks of October 19 and 26. Last Tuesday night marked the first practice, to be held three times a week, for these games. This year inter-class teams in women's basketball will be organized for the first time. It is hoped that a large representation from each class will come out November 1 for the initial practice. A month later, December 1, the Varsity team will begin work.

GIRLS' TENNIS TOURNAMENT PLAY WELL UNDER WAY

Forty Entrants Make Determined Bid for Title Frances Walker Has Held Twice

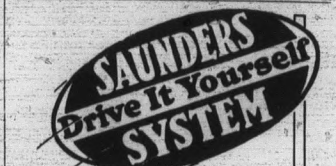

The first three rounds of the women's fall tennis tournament were finished Tuesday at the Monument courts according to the schedule that has been set. Forty girls have already entered the contest and the competition is especially lively this fall. Six of the girls from last year's tournament have re-entered and the final rounds are going to bring out some excellent work with the racquets, according to Virginia Hopkins in general charge of the event.

Frances Walker Cecyle-Taylor, Elizabeth Chickering, Edith Petrie, Marie Didden and Miriam Davis are the members of last year's team who are fighting to hold their laurels. Frances Walker and Cecyle-Taylor were the final contestants and Miss Walker who has held the championship for two years may have some difficult runner-up to conquer for many of the new girls are Freshmen who have already shown good form in high school.

The members of next year's team will be chosen from among the winners of the final rounds, and the captain and managers will be elected very soon. No definite schedule has been set for the last games of the match but it is announced that they will be scheduled for sometime this week.

DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION MEETS IN GYM TONIGHT

Phi Delta Gamma Again Offers Silver Loving Cup For Best Club Play Produced

The Dramatic Association of the University will hold its first regular meeting of the year in the gymnasium tonight at 8.15 o'clock. In addition to an address by a member of the faculty, an interesting program of business and entertainment has been promised.

The Association is an organization the plan of which is to bring all students within its fold who are interested in dramatics, not only from a histrionic standpoint, but from the points of view of staging, directing and playwriting as well. All students interested in this branch of activity are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Four Groups in Association

Comprising the Association are four recognized student dramatic groups—the Mimes, the Players, the Dionysians, and the Troubadours, each of which devotes its activity to a distinct theatrical field.

At the institution of the Association the New Gymnasium Theatre was inaugurated last April with modern curtains and apparatus for scenic and lighting effects, so that annual variety plays will now be of common occurrence.

Phi Delta Gamma, a professional forensic fraternity of the University, has offered a beautiful silver loving cup to the club producing the best performance of the year. The award each year is made by a board of judges consisting of a representative of the faculty, one disinterested local dramatic critic, and a Phi Delta Gamma man.

NOTED ARCHAEOLOGISTS TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

A series of public lectures by eminent archaeologists will be given at the University during the coming winter. These lectures, which students in the classes in Archaeology will be expected to attend, may be attended also by other students of the University without charge, and by the public upon payment of a small fee.

Dr. Silvanus Morley, of the Carnegie Institution, the authority on ancient Maya civilization, will give the first three lectures. The dates and subjects of the lectures follow: Monday, November 9, The Origin of the Old Maya Empire; Monday, November 16, The New Maya Empire, and Monday, November 30, Maya Hieroglyphics.

These lectures will all be illustrated. Other lectures in the series are to be announced later.

STOUT NEW PRESIDENT OF COLUMBIAN SENIORS

Columbian College seniors established a senior election record last Friday night in Corcoran Hall when they selected the following to be their officers for the year: Wyatt Stout, president; Grace Harris, vice president; Elizabeth Bradford, secretary; Jack Hayes, treasurer; Frances Walker, sergeant-at-arms.

All the officers were elected unanimously except Wyatt Stout, who defeated Ernest Stewart by two votes, and Jack Hayes who won by a slightly larger margin from Murray Flack.

CAFETERIA LENGTHENS SCHEDULE OF SERVICE

In Future To Remain Open Continuously From 11.00 A. M. To 7.30 P. M.

Beginning this week the University Cafeteria, located in Building 7, 2022 G Street, will remain open from 11.00 a. m. to 7.30 p. m. in order to make possible the serving of meals at all hours of the day. Opening with the University on September 23rd in new and much-improved quarters, operated by the University, and under new management, experience thus far has demonstrated the demand for lengthened service.

Lunch proper will be served from 11.00 a. m. until 2.00 p. m., and dinner from 4.30 p. m. until 7.30 p. m., but the steam table and serving counter will be open all through the afternoon. In addition to regular cafeteria service in the afternoon, table service will be available to all who desire it. Those wishing the latter should seat themselves at tables and waitresses will serve them. It is thought that this arrangement will prove popular with organizations desiring to hold afternoon parties.

May Become Social Centre

The manager, Mrs. M. C. Doome, announces that the students may use the dining room for social purposes in the afternoon and at all times in so far as it does not interfere with the regular serving of meals. She hopes that in time it may become something of a social centre and meeting place for students, faculty members, and their organizations.

The cafeteria would like to employ several students, both men and women who can so arrange their classes as to be available at the hours needed. Any interested in this announcement should apply to the manager.

PROF. HILL SPEAKS TO POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

At its first meeting of the semester, the Political Science Club of George Washington University was honored by the presence of and an address by Professor Charles E. Hill. Dr. Hill spoke to the society members on current matters of a political nature. He stressed the importance of carefully watching the political and economic developments in Europe particularly during the next few months.

A. I. Hasskarl, president of the Club, spoke briefly on the aims and motives of the organization and sketched the plans for the ensuing semester. Open discussion in which all of the Club's members took part, followed Dr. Hill's remarks.

All students of the University interested in the activities of the Political Science Club are invited to attend its meetings. Membership in the Club is had only by invitation.

WOMEN'S LEGAL CLUB TEA

Hatchet Reviews of Current Shows

By DAN DE SOUZA

BELASCO

Washington theatre-goers are demonstrating their superior intellectual qualities by holding "Is Zat So" over for a second week.

POLI'S

Anyone who doesn't like the second edition of Artists and Models at Poli's this week should get a lily, fold his hands across his breast and give up the ghost. Variety is what gives the show spice. Of course, in places it's only thyme but then in others it's paprika. The sketches were exceedingly clever, especially the "New Indoor Sport," in which alliteration is resorted to, to pass the time away. One of the samples is: "Persons publicly preaching purity probably privately practice pollution." The show is very well balanced, going from classical dancing to burlesque, the latter being screamingly funny. Golf, dancing, singing, joking-ventriloquism, and melo-melodrama, all add their little bit to make the revue the success it surely is. Models galore and artists aplenty, too numerous to mention, pose and cavort to the satisfaction of the most fastidious. Folks, it's worth hocking the winter overcoat, even in this frigid weather, to see the fun at Poli's this week.

MARY.

NATIONAL

"The Passionate Prince," by Ahmed Abdullah and Robert H. Davis, is old stuff, a superficially clever and very draggy oriental tale of the amorous troubles of a Prince of Tunis, Descendant of the True Prophet, no less. The piece includes the usual foreign girl, and her countryman lover, who, contriving with the favorite of the harem, manages to get back his fiancée from the wily duke noble. However, it has a distinctive atmosphere, including the harem, which will cause a concerted rush of Big Butter and Egg Men on the local opticians. There are several passionate moments. At one point the show got so hot it was stopped while the fire marshals reproofed the scenery.

Lowell Sherman plays a suave and soft-voiced Prince, with an accompaniment of Julian Eldridge gestures and glances at the lady in the third row. The rest of the cast is good, especially the lucious Charlotte Wynters as Musk Drop, Queen of the harem.

JACK.

RIALTO

The Rialto offers a very interesting and diversified bill. As chief dispenser of gloom, I nominate the cartoon comedy of Felix, the cat. Felix goes to sea, and his ship perishes some of the strangest antics in all sea-going annals. The sailors decide that he is a jinx, so they toss him overboard. He wrecks a summary and catty revenge for this inhospitable act.

The feature is "Thunder Mountain," a story of the southern highlands. A young mountaineer has the worthy but colossal ambitions of dispelling ignorance among his fellow mountaineers. At first the cards are seemingly stacked against him, but he wins out in the end. He is ably assisted by a peppery heroine, played during the game. Growton and Kendall were the best of the ends for the Hatchetmen. Goldman looked good in guard until he was forced to leave the game with a bad knee. In the backfield Coleman made the best showing, although most of the backfield got little opportunity to show their wares.

Bucknell Backfield Stars

The entire first string backfield of the Bison team proved to be stellar performers. Baisdell and Diehl were especially good on plunges and end runs. Their performance was closely matched by the Goodwin twins, but recently reinstated to athletic standing after falling in their English word. Trimmer, left end, played an excellent game, and his 55-yard drop kick in the first half was one of the neatest exhibitions of an educated toe ever seen.

Bucknell won the toss up, elected to have the wind at its back, and received the ball from the Hatchetmen. Mock got off a good kick under the conditions and the Bisons ran the ball back to the 35-yard line. On the next play Mock was knocked out and was forced to leave the game, Wilton taking his place.

Coach Moran's men rushed the ball to the 55-yard line on the next few plays, and there the Hatchetmen held them three times. On the fourth down Trimmer was called back from end, and executed a wonderful drop kick, the ball, carried by the wind, sailing squarely between the cross bars for the first score of the game.

Near the end of the quarter the Bisons hammered their way to the Hatchetites 7-yard line, and Diehl went over for a touchdown. M. Goodwin kicked goal.

Second Quarter Kept Scoreless

The wearers of the Buff and Blue showed to the best advantage in the second period when they held the orange-jerseyed team scoreless.

During the third quarter the Bucknellians made another march on the Hatchet goal, but were held for down within the shadow of the posts. The Crummen attempted to punt out of danger, but Sapp was tackled behind the goal line for a safety. Early in the last period McCormick, a Bison halfback, got off a 50-yard placement kick that carried between the uprights. The final score of the game came late in this period when McCormick, standing in mid-field, passed 20 yards to Diehl, who ran behind perfect interference for a touchdown. The try for extra point went wild.

The severe cold weather and high wind made the ball exceedingly hard to hand and many fumbles occurred during the game. The few attempts made on the Bucknell goal by the G. W. U. gridmen were promptly checked.

anxious to get a degree from this institution and so in 1919, at the close of the World War, I had the privilege of coming back and being graduated 20 years after my class.

Praises College Athletics

"I am glad to hear of the progress of George Washington. And above all I am glad that you will have a campus for athletics. Athletics is one of the greatest things to develop initiative, self-confidence and teamwork."

In pledging the support of the alumni Mr. Hall said, "President Lewis has done wonders for the University since he has been here and will go on to further wonders if the alumni and student body join in giving him their support. The alumni are behind him heart and soul."

At the conclusion of President Lewis' speech, General and Mrs. Washington made a ceremonious farewell, promising to return again next year. Ben Cain made a stately George, while dainty blue-eyed Margaret Maize was a charming Martha.

Cheers and a snake dance ended the third visit of George and Martha Washington to the institution which bears his name and carries forward his ideals.

PALACE

Many smiles, not a few laughs, and a shower of tears characterize "Little Annie Rooney," with Mary Pickford, at the Palace this week. Mary is as young and sweet as ever, and more at home in short skirts. She may be little, but she certainly wields a mean fist. The story isn't much, but it is adequate. The pathos is beautifully done, as much surreptitious nose blowing testifies.

But Mary isn't the whole show. William Haines is a pleasing leading man. And the gang! Humidor, the little ducky, George Washington Lung, the little Chink, and Able Levy, the homely but earnest little Hebrew, are real bits of artistry that enhance an entirely delightful offering.

Pathe's News, Aesop's Fables, and Timely Topics complete the program, with Director Gannon doing his stuff as well as usual.

HELEN.

MANY NEW MEN TRYOUT FOR GLEE CLUB PLACES

Symphony Orchestra Being Formed as Part of Club; Violins Especially Needed

Eighty men were on hand when the men's Glee Club opened its season Thursday, October 1st, at seven o'clock in Corcoran Hall. Of these, eighteen men reported to Rodger Furr for the purpose of forming a symphony orchestra which will be an integral part of the Club.

According to "Jimmy" Ewin, acting president, the officers and director "Bob" Harmon are very well pleased with the early season interest as evidenced by both the number and quality of voices present. Most of those who attended the first meeting were newcomers. Tryouts, first as a whole and later individually, revealed many of excellent vocal ability. These, with the members of last year's group who have come out, have begun practice in earnest so that concert programs may be given early in November.

Want More Men

Although many men came to the first meeting, club officers feel that a wealth of talent still remains in the University. All men who sing are urged to become identified with the Glee Club at once. Regular practice will be held from now on in Corcoran Hall every Thursday evening at seven o'clock.

A new plan of the songsters is for the formation of a symphony orchestra which will be intimately connected with the club and will accompany them at their concerts and on their tours. It has not been announced who will be the director, but the preliminary organization is under the direction of Rodger Furr who reports a need for all types of orchestral instruments, especially violins, cellos and base viols. The orchestra men will meet in Corcoran Hall at the same time as the Glee Club.

"It's a great aid to scholastic efficiency"

ONE professor makes this remark, and countless others are saying the same thing. They know the value of a typewriter as a time-saver, as a means of compiling data, and as a help in the expression of thought. Then too, it frees the "prof" from that tedious task of deciphering longhand, and keeps him in perfect "reading humor." And perfect "reading humor" tends to mean better marks.
